Volpi Strengthens Executive Management Team

Volpi Group, the expert for customized light-enabled solutions with sites in Schlieren, Zürich, Switzerland and Auburn, NY, USA, has appointed Dr. Harald Kraushaar as the Executive Vice President Sales & Marketing and Ulrich Stärker as the Chief Technology Officer.

Previously Mr. Kraushaar held senior management positions at Sony DADC BioSciences, a leading supplier of smart polymer consumables, and comes with extensive international experience and success in the building-up and management of OEM businesses in the Life Science Tools and In Vitro Diagnostics markets.

Mr. Stärker held senior development management positions at SPECTROsolutions AG, a former subsidiary of the Japanese photonics expert Hamamatsu, and comes with extensive expertise and success in development and systems-engineering of innovative optical solutions for astronomy, spectroscopy and fluorescence.

“Through the recent appointments of Mr. Kraushaar and Mr. Stärker as members of the Executive Board Volpi AG is enforcing the successful orientation towards Life Science Tools, In Vitro Diagnostics and Medical Technology” explains Max Kunz, CEO and owner of Volpi Group
